

Mercy Health Clinician Awarded The Sister Maria Cunningham Lifetime Achievement Award

Professor Michael Rasmussen has been awarded the prestigious Sister Maria Cunningham Lifetime Contribution Award for his 40 years of dedicated service to Mercy Health in Australia. Dr Rasmussen has devoted his professional career to providing high quality obstetric and gynecological care to women through Mercy Hospital for Women and Werribee Mercy Hospital. In addition, Dr Rasmussen is recognised by his colleagues and peers as a strong advocate for women's-centred care and the promotion of women in research and leadership.

The Sr Maria Cunningham Lifetime Contribution Award is bestowed by the CHA Stewardship Board on Catholic health leaders who have made significant contributions to the Church's presence in health and aged care, and inspired others working in Catholic health and aged care ministries.
